iPhone 6 and Charger

The new phone in town was named iPhone 6. He took a walk around the neighborhood. He ran into a neighbor named Screen Protector. "Hello Screen Protector. Would you want to be my friend?" But Screen Protector blushed and ran rolled up. So iPhone 6 went to the park and met LG Phone. LG Phone's battery was dead so he couldn't play with iPhone 6. Then iPhone 6 ran into Metro PCS but her wi-fi signal wasn't strong enough to play. After Metro PCS left to search for a stronger wi-fi signal, iPhone 6 ran into Samsung. "What?" asked iPhone 6. Samsung's volume was stuck on 'low' and she wouldn't change it. iPhone 6 was sad and running low on battery power. Finally iPhone 6 saw a somebody that was named Charger. Charger said, "I'll be your friend but first I'll help you charge up!" They played together the rest of the day.
